

Susan Greene lives in central North Carolina where she serves in her local church's music ministry and Christian school. She has been married for 28 years. She has a daughter and son in college and a newly-married son.

Susan thoroughly enjoys studying the Bible and she looks forward to every opportunity to share its truth with others!